has been asserted in some quarters that, in recent years, Education has been able to secure appropriations in proportion to the increase in the population.

IN 1935-36 PROVINCIAL revenue income amounted to $1,000,000, and in 1946-47 it had increased to $2,188,100, an increase of 75 per cent. The total population of the Province in 1935 had been increased by 100,000, while total Provincial appropriations for Education (excluding the University) had increased from $238,881 to $372,875, an increase of 56 per cent.

It is significant that the Government figures which the Government has used to justify its progressively assuming more of the cost of Education within the limits of the Provincial Budget are based on the assumption that it is necessary to assure the continuation and the expansion of all necessary Public Services.

amounting to $237,639. An increased appropriation of $15,000 is included in the 1947-48 Budget for the habilitation of "Metis," and one new unit will be increased to two. The total increase of $58,000 is provided for Old Age Pensions, and the Government anticipates increase in the number of pensioners; and a sum of $100,000 is provided for the Canadian Institute for the Blind, as a contribution towards the establishment of suitable centres for the Blind in the Province.

It is not possible to estimate the amount I am sure every Member of this Assembly and the public will agree is a fair estimate. The estimate for the year 1947-48 is $1,250,000, an increase of $50,000, or 4 per cent. It is the Government's intention to provide for a 10 per cent allowance for children up to the age of 18 years, providing they continue to be in the Province, and an indent, will have your ap-

MUBLIC HEALTH expenditures for the ensuing year are estimated to be $1,000,000. The total of $580,000 is provided for care and treatment of Tuberculosis patients, an increase of $32,000. An additional sum of $20,000 is allocated for Cancer Treatment. The sum of $647,000 is required for Maternity Hospitalization, an increase of $130,000, due chiefly to the increased hospitalization of patients. A sum of $121,000 is included for Mental Institutions owing to increased costs and increased patient

The increase in the sums required for purposes of the Public Department amounts to $1,574,200, of which $1,200,000 is provided for the present year. The appropriation of $200,000 for the year 1920 is an increase of $175,000. An additional $25,000 is provided for the maintenance of main highways, increasing the total appropriation $1,225,000. The sums for the maintenance of local roads is increased to $300,000, a total of $700,000; the sums for the maintenance of local work the vote for maintenance of Legislative and Departmental Buildings is $100,000, of which $30,000 is for the maintenance of Treasury Branches.

It was also pointed

BEFORE LEAVING the matter of Public Debt, may I say a few words with respect to government policy in the matter of future borrowing.

I have already stated it is the government's intention to continue to reduce the burden of public debt as rapidly as circumstances permit. I wish to adhere to our "pay as you go" policy in the matter of all ordinary expenditures. If it should be necessary to obtain additional funds for post-war development, we will have to resort to the public bond market. The government has no intention of that such funds should not be poured on the general credit of the province and the debt service charges to provide interest and principal payments should not be a further charge against the tax revenues of the province. The government is of the opinion that post-war development projects for which it may become necessary to borrow capital in the present and future soundness of Alberta's financial commitments.

In closing my Budget address last year, I emphasized the importance of an early and satisfactory adjustment of Dominion-Provincial relations in the interests of each and every province, and of Canada as a whole.

Since that time a Dominion-Provincial Conference has been con-

If we are to enjoy a sound post-war Canadian economy in which it will be possible to achieve a high level of economic security with the maximum of individual opportunity and freedom, the Dominion-Provincial relations on a basis of equality, mutual respect, national unity and harmony and a maximum degree of mutual co-operation between the Dominion and provincial affairs.

live is an effective alternative course of action. Because of the direct and important bearing which this matter has upon the financial affairs of this, as well as every other province, may I conclude this address by quoting briefly from your submission to the Dominion-Provincial Conference with respect to the question of public finance in the post-war era which we have al-

The cold hard fact must be faced that to do so on an adequate scale would require the Dominions to turn over to the provinces practically some of its major fields of revenue, or alternatively, to turn over some of its large provinces to the Dominion government itself. The revenue from those sources that the Dominion government itself could leave to the provinces would be left with insufficient revenue to discharge its obligations when the scale of taxation

Can Never Repay Debt Owed Men Lost in War

LLOYDMINSTER.—There is nothing Canadians can do to repay the sacrifices of men who gave their lives in battle-frosts of the world, but they can keep alive in their minds the debt owed them and their families.

THAT WAS THE statement made here by O. G. Yates, president of the Lloydminster Board of Trade, when he addressed the annual meeting of that organization recently.

Pointing his remarks more explicitly at this district, Mr. Yates declared that many of the country's finest boys had paid the supreme sacrifice and others had suffered grievous wounds. "This district needs to see that we get all the returned men we can to re-established amongst us; they are the cream of our manhood and we need them here," he asserted.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: honorary president, Hon. F. C. Douglas and Hon. Ernest Manning; presidents of Saskatchewan and Alberta respectively, Hon. W. A. Fallow and Mr. Douglas, as ministers of public works and highways for the two provinces; Hon. I. C. Noyes and S. A. Berg, M.L.A. local members in the provincial legislatures.

HONORARY vice-presidents are Robert J. and Max Campbell, members for this district at Ottawa. President is Mr. Yates; vice-presidents, J. A. McBurney, J. A. Noyes, and W. Stompie; treasurer, J. A. Noyes; executive, Dr. L. Cooke, H. C. Messum, W. J. Miller, J. Swift, J. V. Bryant, S. Lavoy and L. Procter. Among reports presented at the meeting was that of the industrial committee showing considerable growth in the development of Lloydminster oil fields. There were 16 new wells drilled in 1942, 1000 was added to the town payroll. Total oil produced from 1942 to 1943 was 58,302 barrels, the total in 1942 being 55,000 barrels.

Scoutmaster Feted
VEGUEVILLE.—T. M. Bennett, scoutmaster, was honored at a banquet held by Scouts and their parents, under the chairmanship of A. Schmidt. W. W. Pridemore presided. Mr. Bennett was given a rousing ovation.

Hears of Death
PORT ASSINIBOINE.—Mr. J. J. Deacon has received word of the death of his father, G. G. A. Fraser, of Port Arthur, who was 73 years old.

To Reduce Cost
PORT ASSINIBOINE.—Arrangements have been made by Prairie Oil Co-operative Ltd. to hold an organizational meeting here Wednesday, with a view to reducing the price of fuel products to the consumer. Officials contend this can be done by controlling the raw product, by owning and operating their own refineries and by controlling the markets through a holding company. President of the company is H. W. Rogers.

Material Shortage Scored Assembly Asks Ottawa Govt. To Subsidize Housing Plan

Members of the Legislative Assembly agreed without dissenting voice to a resolution presented at Monday afternoon session by Mr. Rose Wilkinson (C.P.C. Calgary) who urged the federal government to institute a national subsidized housing plan to solve the problem of those people who are still without adequate shelter.

THE MOTION, which was introduced by J. Harper (Protestant Army), asks that under terms of the plan the federal government should make available to the consumer the majority of wage earners will have the choice of either buying a home by making "normal" initial and low monthly payments, or of renting homes at low rentals in both cases within their means. It closes with the suggestion that the government of Alberta should co-operate with the federal authorities and help to supplement such federal action by its means.

Mr. Wilkinson, who is an alderman in Calgary and on the housing committee of the Calgary city council, said that in his constituency in that city and indicated that the conditions which exist there must also apply to all over Canada.

"We can petition Ottawa—and request the cabinet to take action," he said, "but if we have not the materials we cannot get the building done."

THE CALGARY LADY member then quoted extracts from Hansard, which indicated that the federal government had been considering the building of a new city in the west, but that the plan was not being carried out.

She charged that present policy of the federal government to not allow the regular citizen an opportunity to own a home or to rent at a low rate, was a failure.

She reviewed the work of the National Housing Act and wartime housing act, as well as other federal measures.

The moral effect of bringing children up in slum conditions was outlined by Mrs. Wilkinson briefly. She said that the government for its failure to create the necessary money with the whole Dominion as a whole.

"It is up to the Dominion government to stop the housing problem and to do something about it in a practical way," Mr. Proulx said in his address on the resolution.

He advanced the suggestion that if cabinet ministers in Ottawa, members of Parliament, provincial cabinet ministers, and city aldermen were told that they would have to live in houses by March 15, they would be better off, the housing problem of Canada would be solved by that date.

"GRATUITIES are being skimmed off by inflated housing costs," said Mr. J. E. Linnell, who was charged as he spoke for the resolution. "The whole housing problem, which gratuities were established in being wiped out."

The wartime housing projects in Bieche and on Alberta avenue represented the "solution" to the housing problem, said Mr. J. B. Wilson.

Hold Carnival
THORSHY.—An ice carnival sponsored by the Ladies' Community League of Thorshy was held at the local rink for the children of Thorshy and district. It was the first of the series of carnivals which were being held in the city.

ALREADY IN EDMONTON officers are asking men to work for $80 or $90 a month, he said. "Men are unloading cars right now at $20 a week."

While such high rents are being charged plenty of valuable building materials are going to waste in and out of the city, he said.

He said as he predicted that the city of Edmonton, which has been occupied by their trades, the city of Edmonton, he charged is entering high rent for quarters.

HE IS NOT A VETERAN'S problem only," he concluded, "but it is a problem facing everyone."

Those who urged that the province should assist in the subsidization of such a building program in Alberta said that the majority of the suggestions, the premier said as he pointed out that a recent survey showed that 72,000 people in Alberta wanted to build, which with a subsidy of one-third would mean that the province would be committed for a sum of about $50,000, which was beyond what the province could be expected to undertake.

MRS. WILKINSON CLOSED the debate charging that men had failed, but that women of the country who got together would not fail.

There is a mystery in the shortage of materials, she suggested, and asked if it indicated a monopoly. "Let us see if we can't break it up," she said, "and if there is a monopoly let us break it up."

Home conditions cause the need of this province for institutions such as tubercular hospitals and mental asylums, she claimed.

Publicity Bureau

To Widen Activity

Transfer of the publicity and travel bureau from the department of trade and industry to the publicity bureau, which was recently announced, is confirmed in estimates tabled in the Legislative Assembly Monday night by Premier Ernest Manning.

An increase in expenditure for this branch of about 100 per cent is provided in the estimates. Total amounts to be expended on encouragement of the tourist industry to visit Alberta are to rise from $24,000 to $36,000, a difference of $12,000.

Promotional activities and advertising and publicity make up $19,000 of the difference between last year's accounts and this year's.

Alta. to Collect Royalty on Fish

Prediction that the province would be collecting a royalty on commercial fishing, made during the debate on the Speech from the Throne, was confirmed Monday afternoon when the assembly at this session's first night sitting Monday predicted that $25,000 would be collected under terms of the bill when it becomes law.

The bill provides "for the payment of royalties on any fish or class of fish taken for commercial purposes." The amount of the royalties may vary according to the class of fish taken.

Treasury Branches Now Showing Profit

Alberta's treasury branches, about 100 in number, for the first time in their history according to the budget speech of Premier Ernest Manning in the Legislative Assembly Monday night, appear in the estimates for an appropriation of $73,910 for their year 1942-43.

A new law under which expenses for this branch of the government for advertising and publicity set at $10,000.

Technical Branch Planned by Govt.

There will be a new government branch for encouragement of technical development coming under the jurisdiction of the department of economic affairs, according to the budget speech of Premier Ernest Manning in the Legislative Assembly Monday night. Total estimated expenditures for the new department are $42,000, with its top official, a director, getting $13,800.

Auto Destroyed

Fire destroyed a feed shed and a Dodge car at the farm owned by J. H. H. R. South Edmonton, at the noon hour Monday. Shred and car were both a total loss. A considerable amount of meat grinding machinery also was lost.

Golf

By BYRON NELSON

EVERY caddy has some golfer he admires. Mine was Walter Hagen. In addition to the peak of his remarkable career.

During his lifetime Walter has earned close to a million dollars in golf and has won more than 60 tournaments, including four British Open and five PGA championships. In addition, he has played more than 1,300 exhibition matches over the world.

By the time I was a successful professional golfer, however, Walter was in the twilight of his career. Consequently, I never played with much with him or against him as I would have liked. My recollection is that I played with him only once, at the General Breck Open in Canada in 1934.

WALTER AND I didn't have much success playing together in 1937, after Walter had won the PGA title in 1933. In 1937, 1938, Hagen was on an exhibition tour when he got a long distance call from Dallas, Texas, to defend his title. He had forgotten all about it.

As a matter of fact, it was at that PGA Championship in Dallas that I first saw Hagen and he took a personal interest in him. Ted Longworth, then the club professional, had been trying to teach me to make my swing more compact and he took me over to Dallas so I could see the big boys play. On the way over he told me to watch them very closely particularly Hagen.

THE SEMI-FINALS were being played the day we went over to Dallas and Hagen was matched with Al Espinosa. I followed them all the way around until at one point Walter had to pull me up until the bright Texas sun. The afternoon had been more or less overcast to start with and on Walter had started out without a cap, but finally the sun had broken through the clouds and by that time it was really very bright and hampered his view of the green and pin.

After trying to shade his eyes with his hand, Hagen turned to the gallery and said, "Has anybody a cap they will lend me?" I was standing in the front rank so I just jumped forward and extended my cap. He took it, put it on and played the shot in spite of the fact that the cap was too small for him. He looked quite funny with it sitting on the top of his head and the gallery laughed and applauded.

HE BEAT ESPINOSA by an extra hole, the first extra hole, I believe, and went on to win his fifth PGA title by beating Joe Turner in the final the next day. That night when I got home I walked into the house where my father and mother were sitting. I was carrying my cap in my hand and I said to them, "See that cap? ... See that cap? ... Walter Hagen wore that cap!"

For the life of me, I couldn't understand why they weren't as impressed as I thought they should have been.

Draw Suspension

CHICAGO, March 5.—(AP)—

Arturo Godoy, Chilean heavy-weight champion, and Lee Savold, Paterson, N.J., were suspended indefinitely by the Illinois State Athletic Commission Monday after a hearing on their fight at the New Stadium last Friday night which was declared "no contest."

The commission, after ordering the fighters' purses paid, said evidence upheld the action of Referee Behr. The contest was honestly fought, the commission ruled, excepting styles of the two boxers were such that an unsatisfactory performance resulted.

Report for Spring Training

Aw, G'wan!

SANFORD, Fla., March 5—

(AP)—Baseball Monday broke a precedent of long standing when shortstop Jackie Robinson and pitcher John Wright, two negro athletes reported for spring training with Montreal Royals, Brooklyn's farm club in the International League.

Before an uninterested gathering of seven spectators, Robinson and Wright went through the routine practice motions in a drill that failed to create much excitement.

THE TWO ATHLETES reported to Bob Finch, assistant to president Branch Rickey, Robinson greeting Finch with a smile and saying, "Well, this is it."

ROBINSON and Wright had their turn with the other hitters facing the mechanical pitcher. He met some platters squarely but was so busy answering reporters and posing for photographers that he had little time for a real workout.

Wright threw to the hitters for a short time, cutting loose with a good curve ball.

ROBINSON is determined to make the Montreal Royals realize he will have tough competition in the league this year. Stan Broad, last year's regular center fielder, and the parent Brooklyn club are the former football, basketball and baseball star at the University of California in Los Angeles.

"I NEVER SAW these fellows play so I can't say just how much I like them," Wright told the questions. "Whatever they do, it's okay by me. Certainly, I would be willing to go to a lower class league but I want to make this club."

Both Robinson and Wright are experienced. Robinson was a lieutenant in the army until he discharged a year ago. Wright was discharged from the navy during the winter.

With American high schools although only 4,000 out of 20,000 support baseball, it is the sport of the future. "Whatever they do, it's okay by me. Certainly, I would be willing to go to a lower class league but I want to make this club."

Jim Gallagher, the Cubs' general manager, is planning to install scouts at Wrigley Field to scout the fans to the upper stand. . . .

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, March 5.—(AP)—

Commissioner A. B. Chandler has accepted an invitation to speak to the American College Publicity Association's May meeting on the subject of "Protecting the College Athlete."

Just the other day, Chandler said that college football couldn't be expected to bring about the college coach's proposals about signing undergraduate players unless the colleges give baseball a bigger place in their sports program.

That same day the Phillies announced they planned to sign Gate Bishop, Washington state basketball star whose injury probably would have given the college basketball team a somewhat more important place this spring.

He hit 400 for Fort Lewis, Wash., last season. . . . Chandler was right, of course, in pointing out that only one-third of the colleges field basketball teams. But organized baseball already has reached an agreement.

Every one of the 90 tracks controlled by the Greyhound Racing Association is to have its own security officer and assistant, the newspaper says. New personnel at stadiums will receive special training from experienced officers, and more police and criminal investigation department officers are being recruited.

(Dog track racketeering gained wide publicity recently when a man doped all dogs but one in a race by hiding in the kennels. As soon as his work was done, bets running into thousands of pounds were placed from all parts of the country on the one dog left in to run.)

Precautions against doping and other frauds will include foot lighting of kennels, minute examination of the dog's food, security regarding the order in which dogs are put in their kennels, and a careful check of everyone connected in handling the dogs before a race, the Daily Telegraph reported.

(AP)—Baseball Monday broke a precedent of long standing when shortstop Jackie Robinson and pitcher John Wright, two negro athletes reported for spring training with Montreal Royals, Brooklyn's farm club in the International League.

Before an uninterested gathering of seven spectators, Robinson and Wright went through the routine practice motions in a drill that failed to create much excitement.

THE TWO ATHLETES reported to Bob Finch, assistant to president Branch Rickey, Robinson greeting Finch with a smile and saying, "Well, this is it."

ROBINSON and Wright had their turn with the other hitters facing the mechanical pitcher. He met some platters squarely but was so busy answering reporters and posing for photographers that he had little time for a real workout.

Wright threw to the hitters for a short time, cutting loose with a good curve ball.

ROBINSON is determined to make the Montreal Royals realize he will have tough competition in the league this year. Stan Broad, last year's regular center fielder, and the parent Brooklyn club are the former football, basketball and baseball star at the University of California in Los Angeles.

"I NEVER SAW these fellows play so I can't say just how much I like them," Wright told the questions. "Whatever they do, it's okay by me. Certainly, I would be willing to go

The ROADS AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

UCKED away in the corners of our daily papers across Canada recently was a little news item stating that an order-in-council, "which had been widely criticized," had been rescinded. This is not much because the order-in-council was rescinded, but because it was rescinded as a result of "widespread criticism." This is democracy at its best. This is government bowing to a principle and the will of the people.

I Saw Today

THE PARTICULAR order-in-council was passed on October 28, 1944, and rescinded. Therefore His Excellency, the Administrator in Council, on the recommendation of the minister of veterans' affairs, is pleased to order and direct hereby—order that re-establishment credit may be made available to a member of the forces eligible therefore for the payment of any debt owing by such member of the forces (or to the crown).

The objection to this came from the members of the House of Commons who are members of the special committee on veterans' affairs, which was attacked by about 150 members of the House in general principle and in particular detail, for the following reasons:

1. THE PLACE, the act covering the re-establishment credit is not a law, but an order-in-council, which was issued for any purpose authorized by the order-in-council. It is a fairly simple matter that if a veteran applies under this section to use

Speaker Asks Higher Wages For Experts

THOSE ARE the words of Prof. J. MacGregor Smith of the Faculty of Agriculture, University of Alberta, when he referred Monday at a luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel to the salary received by a young agricultural expert who had recently developed a hand stem which was resistant to the sawfly.

He said the person to whom he referred was employed in research with a Dominion experimental farm, and although offered $3,000 for similar services in the United States, was receiving only $1,500 here.

He made the reference during his address on "Agriculture Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," at a luncheon meeting of Kivanians which was attended by about 75 farmers of the district, who were invited by the club to hear the professor.

HE SAID many of the most progressive farmers in the district, attending the university were veterans of the 1939-45 war, and posed the question as to their future after graduation.

"Are we going to turn them out to salaries of $125 per month?" he asked.

He recounted the difficulties that Canada's pioneer farmers had with their land, and the problems of the virgin soils with implements that were crude and inadequate, and the problems of the province as a whole.

Vets Will Seek Varsity Courses

Between 1,000 and 1,500 service personnel will apply for study at the University of Alberta next September, according to an estimate given by Dr. Robert Newton, minister of the department of veterans' affairs, at a luncheon meeting of Kivanians at the Macdonald hotel, Tuesday night.

Dr. Newton said that most of the veterans attending the university will be seeking their studies next year, and few are ready to graduate. He said that the university is making every effort to obtain equipment with which to enlarge the various facilities.

SC Board Costs Are Cut by $6,456

Expenses for the Social Credit board estimates for the first time under the head of the department of veterans' affairs, show a cut of $6,456 from previous year's estimates, according to figures tabled in the Legislative Assembly Monday.

Of the reduction, $3,000 was in the estimates for an apartment for the department of the technical adviser, L. D. Byrne, deputy minister of the department of veterans' affairs, however, it was a cut of $6,000 which deputy minister reserve, in another item showing his salary as deputy minister to be $10,000.

Job Opportunities Given to Veterans

The first week of the campaign to secure on-the-job training for ex-service personnel ended 82 job opportunities for Canadian and ex-service veterans. J. W. Proctor, administrator for Northern Alberta, said that the campaign had been successful in securing 82 job opportunities for veterans.
